

OPENING GAME OF BASEBALL SUNDAY

Sunday is our opening game and we want to see all the community out helping Sikeston boys get a good start. The team has been working hard to get in form and by the time for the game Sunday, I think you will agree we have a pretty snappy team, consisting of all home talent. We have been working on improvements on our field and grand stand, and the latter has been screened so the game is directly in front of the spectators, which enable them to have a good view without any danger of being struck by foul balls.

Dexter defeated Bloomfield Sunday a week ago, so we are expecting a hard fight, but we feel we are able to put the necessary punch in the game to put over a winner on our first appearance. Don't fail to help us trim Dexter, as you would like to see us.

We think we have done our part in developing a team and a good park, so for our work, all we ask is, your good support, the same we feel confident you will render.

We wish to announce we are not going to play nothing but teams of good ability. Following Sunday's game, we play Cairo K. I. T. League, two games, Saturday and Sunday at Cairo and all who can drive over and help us win a game from an organized League, will be greatly appreciated.

In conclusion we want to thank every individual for the help they gave in financing our needs of suits and various necessities, so come out Sunday and see us all dressed up with new uniforms on a better field than we have had for some time.

Again thanking you for your help, we await for your numerous faces to appear Sunday.

NEW MADRID COUNTY AT THE STATE FAIR

Expressing itself as being unwilling to sleep out on past reputations for exhibits at county and community fairs, the New Madrid County Farm Bureau has taken a step forward and will take a county exhibit to the Missouri State Fair to be held at Sedalia, August 16 to 23, in addition to the exhibits that will be shown at the local fairs of Southeast Missouri.

The committee in charge of the collection and preparation of the exhibit, as appointed by J. K. Robbins, President of the County organization, is as follows: Fred Gesks, Canalon; T. A. Penman, Portageville; A. O. Ault, Gideon; Alfred Stepp, New Madrid and Geo. M. Meier, Parma.

Last year New Madrid placed good exhibits at some of the county fairs of Southeast Missouri, but did not have an agricultural exhibit to the State Fair. The Farm Bureau and farmers of New Madrid County are looking forward to an exceptionally good exhibit for the coming State Fair.

The D. A. R. will hold their last meeting of this season Saturday afternoon, May 3rd, at the home of Mrs. E. J. Malone, Sr.

It looks like the Chillicothe Business College, as in the past two years, will again win the baseball championship of the Missouri State Conference as it is leading the conference by a good margin.

LETTER FROM THE AGRICULTURAL BUREAU

Conference on Railroad Incline At Cairo

A conference is soon to be called at Cairo, Ill., to discuss the possibility of re-establishing the railroad incline on Missouri side of the Mississippi river opposite Cairo. The citizens of Cairo are much interested in this project as well as the agricultural and business interests of Southeast Missouri. Should the incline be re-established, it will provide for shorter outlets for Southeast Missouri grain, cotton and other products, and will be a great saving in the aggregate on freight shipments. The Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau has had this matter up with the Missouri Pacific Railroad and has received favorable replies from the officials of that company. They have asked that a committee from the Bureau meet with their officials to discuss the project. The Secretary of the Bureau was in Cairo last week and arranged for a joint conference with the railroad officials, the business men of Cairo and a committee from Southeast Missouri. The conference will be held in Cairo as soon as the railroad officials fix a definite date.

Much Interest Displayed in the Tri-State Bridge at Cairo

Letters have been received at the headquarters of the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau from all of the Congressmen and United States Senators in Missouri, expressing their interest in the recent bill introduced in Congress providing for a preliminary examination and survey of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers at the junction of the Ohio river with the Mississippi river, for the purpose of determining the practicability and feasibility, and estimating the cost of a tri-State bridge over these rivers as a link in existing or proposed inter-State highways and as a memorial to ex-service men of the World War. This bill was introduced by Hon. J. F. Fulbright, Congressman from the Fourteenth District. From the letters received, it is evident that all of the Missouri members of Congress who have informed themselves of the bill are lined up for it. A few of the members had not heard of the bill and promised in their letters to inform themselves immediately.

Farming Operations in Southeast Missouri in First-Class Condition

The Secretary of the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau made a trip through the district last week and called on a number of the members in several counties. Both from observation and reports given him from farmers in the different communities, the outlook for crops this year is better at the present time than it has been at the same time for many years past. This condition prevails throughout the entire Southeast Missouri district. So far the spring has been exceedingly dry and the farmers have been enabled to work steadily. As a result of this, most of the cotton and corn ground is already prepared and much of it already seeded. It is true that in most communities they are beginning to need rain, and a good rain would be most welcome, but so far there has been no cause to complain of the dry weather. Present conditions are quite a contrast to that of this time last year when the farmers were terribly handicapped on account of too much rain. The rivermen say that the Mississippi river is apparently at its highest point just now and that there will be no further rises of any consequence this year.

The cotton acreage will be materially increased over last year, due chiefly to the fact that the farmers have been able to prepare the land and seed it. Hardware merchants report a very active trade in farm machinery, especially that which applies to the cotton crop.

The Standard received a pleasant call, Wednesday morning, from Fred Endicott, publisher of the White County Democrat of Carmi, Ill. Mr. Endicott was on his way to New Madrid to look after some business affairs.

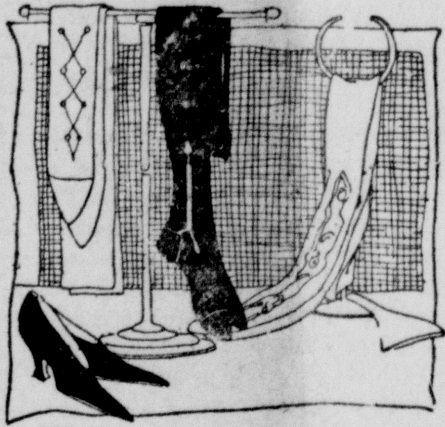

A new printer in The Standard office signed an advertisement Job Reiss instead of John Reiss. The correction has been made and John can tell his friends that the error did not cause him the kind of suffering that was attributed to Job, though it caused him more or less annoyance.

The editor had a compliment paid him last week that was unintended. An employee of this office, while trading at one of the stores, was told by the clerk that he did not like The Standard as the editor talked too plain with no regard for ones feelings. It may be that this fellow or some of his friends have had their toes stepped on in some manner. No law abiding citizen need fear The Standard and the other kind can go to H-allifax.

Two young men of Sikeston were arrested Monday by Officer J. H. Hayden for issuing worthless checks to merchants out of town. These boys gave checks for $3 and $4 and drawn on the Sikeston Trust Company who returned them marked "no funds." It is a serious matter to obtain money in this way and this should be a warning to others who do such tricks. It has been but a week or ten days ago since a Sikeston married man was arrested for giving a check for about $6 to an Illinois merchant when he had no money on deposit. Out of regard for their families we will not print their names at this time.

A Word From Judge Lescher

Officer Noblin took the number of a car Saturday evening for fast driving on Prosperity Street and he appeared Monday morning before Judge Lescher, but was turned loose without a fine. The officer said the boy was driving from 20 to 25 miles an hour. Guess somebody will have to be killed before this law is enforced.

In answer to the above, will say that officer Noblin didn't know how fast the above party was running, he just thought the party was running 20 miles per hour. The only way to ascertain how fast a car is being driven is to have a motorcycle cop. Cases like this has been tried in police court several times and by jury, never a conviction, because a jury won't convict just because somebody thinks a car is exceeding the speed limit. You have got to know, not guess. I am more than willing to fine every man, woman, white or black, rich or poor, when proof is at hand for speeding, cutting corners and fast driving at intersections of streets. Also for failing to blow their horn at crossings.—J. C. Lescher.

Miss Ellen Hayden and Manning Greer motored to Jackson last Saturday and were quietly married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hayden of this city and a Senior in High School here. Mr. Greer is connected with the Scott County Milling Co. The young couple will make their home at Benton. The Standard extends congratulations to them.

Mrs. Ray Oliver entertained Thursday night with a Five Hundred party. The dining room and living room were beautifully decorated in pink and white roses for the occasion. Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wentz, Dr. and Mrs. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Blankenship, Miss Blankenship, Miss Covington, Louis Montgomery and John Covington, all of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Forrester, Miss Helen Grojean, Chris Francis and Jeanne Hirschberg. At the close of the game, a two-course luncheon was served.

SOME SCOTT COUNTY FARM BUREAU NEWS

Bee Transferring Demonstration
Several days ago one of the most interesting Apary meetings ever held in Scott County, was conducted on the Court House lawn at Benton. More than twenty-five interested beekeepers were present and took active part in the transferring of bees from an old box and one from a log which was obtained from Carl Luper of Benton.

After the bees had been properly transferred, Otis Wade, Extension Entomologist, of the University of Missouri, gave a talk on "Re-queening of a Hive".

After this meeting, the Scott county Beekeepers held their annual meeting at which time J. P. Hoffman of Oran was elected President and L. A. Schott, Secretary-Treasurer. This organization decided to pool an order for pure bred Italian queens. The following men ordered 115 queens, which will be shipped within the next twenty days:

J. P. Hoffman, Joseph Laux, Oran; Carl Luper, Benton; Theon Grojean, New Hamburg; J. Boston, Sikeston; A. A. Gannan, Chaffee; A. J. Renner, L. A. Schott, Wm. Le Grand, Benton; Joe Ellis, Lemm Buck, Commerce.

Blasting Demonstrations

The two blasting demonstrations which were conducted on the farms of Andy Heisserer and Amos Drury, were considered great success by the fifty-two men who were present. Stumps of all descriptions were blown from the soil, with the use of Sodotol, the explosive which is supplied to the farmers by the Government. After the stumps were blown, the remaining spare roots were pulled with the Paul Bunyon hammer, which is now display in front of the Court House at Benton.

At the meeting held on Mr. Smith's farm on Klugg's hill, a half bushel of bait was mixed and distributed to the farmers of that district. Another meeting was held at Morley on Tuesday, April 22, by County Agent Renner, at which time similar instructions were given over to the control of these pests; likewise, he explained the use of nico-dust to control the striped cucumber beetles which bother the young plants.

CONSTITUTION ESSAY CONTEST AT MALONE THEATRE, FRIDAY

Friday morning at 9:00 a. m., the following schools will compete in the Constitution Essay Contest: Charleston, Kennett, Campbell, Lilbourn, Morley, Diehlstadt, and Sikeston. The winner is to represent the Sikeston District at St. Louis in 49th State finals. The Woman's Club is offering $10 to the winner. Admission to the contest will be free.

Western Union Rebuilding Lines

A foreman and fourteen men have been making their headquarters in Sikeston for several weeks. Work has progressed from St. Louis on the Missouri Pacific to a point near Sikeston on the east and from Poplar Bluff close to Sikeston. New poles and wire being installed. The payroll of the gang amounts to several hundred dollars per week. Western Union will also shortly begin work on reconstruction of lines on Frisco railroad.

Mrs. Nora Story, who has been visiting several days in this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Welter, returned to her home in St. Louis, Wednesday.

Mrs. Eva Utngae died of tuberculosis at her home near Vanduser, Tuesday and was buried at Morley Thursday. She was born October 15, 1886 and was 37 years of age at the time of her death. Besides her husband she leaves three children and a host of friends to mourn her passing.

Pat Dyer, Federal Judge at St. Louis, died at his home in that city Tuesday of this week, at the age of 86 years. He had been in public life since the civil war and had filled many offices from the Legislature in Missouri to Congress in Washington. He was a genial gentleman to meet and had many expressions that was not always dignified for a Federal Judge, but were very expressive. The editor of The Standard has reasons to remember Judge Dyer, but he is now dead and the unkindly feelings we might have had for him twenty years ago are buried with his passing.

UNION ELECTRIC CO. MADE NO CUT RATE

C. E. Brenton, manager of the Union Electric Company, for Southeast Missouri, had the following to say of the hearing held at Poplar Bluff:

"We were very much pleased with the result of the hearing recently held before Commissioner Bean of the Public Service Commission concerning the complaints which the Board of Public Works of Poplar Bluff made against the Union Electric Company. The city showed instances where the Missouri Public Utilities Company prior to the present management added some residences under competitive conditions at rates which varied with the regular schedule. No cases were shown against the present management. We have not needed to discriminate in Poplar Bluff in order to hold the business. As elsewhere, we have enjoyed an excellent business over there. With an increase of 28 per cent in the number of customers, we feel this is definite proof that we have the good will of the general public at Poplar Bluff.

"The charge against the Company, that the Union Company was losing money in its operation at Poplar Bluff and using net revenues from other communities in the district to drive competition out of the city, was unfounded and withdrawn by the city before the Commissioner took action.

"Since the whole case then dwindled down to nothing more than correcting the bills of some residence customers taken on the lines a year or two ago, the Union Company volunteered to make the necessary audit and corrections and to provide the city and the Public Service Commission with a report of them. In turn, the city officials agreed to permit a representative of the Union Company to examine into its rates to determine if any customers were rendered service at a price more favorable than the regular schedule and for any such, the city also agreed to make corrections.

"We believe that we not only have the good will of the Poplar Bluff people, but by our volunteering to make corrections of some deviations from the regular rates made some time ago, we believe we have now gained the good will of all of the members of the Board of Public Works which we are very glad to add to the good will we enjoy from the general public of Poplar Bluff."

Whisky Is Medicine Again

Alcoholic liquor, removed for a time from the Pharmacopoeia, or official list of curative drugs, has been readmitted, and consequently regains its status as a legitimate medicine, which of course was never denied it by the Volstead Law. Ivor Griffith, in a leading editorial editorial in

The American Journal of Pharmacy (New York), notes that this readmission has been the subject of much recent newspaper comment. As usual there is a diversity of opinion regarding the benefit which may or may not accrue, but generally it is agreed that so long as the Prohibition law qualifies these spirits as legiti-mate therapeutic agents the Government's authority for medicinal standards should undoubtedly have stated requirements for the purity of whisky and brandy. Mr.
Griffith continues:

"Physicians rather uniformly agree that whisky is a valuable medicinal. The country, however, has opinionated that whisky is a dangerous drug when used for other than medicinal purposes, and has accordingly entered it upon its constitutional articles as a banned imbibition except when administered under competent medical supervision.

"Practically the same thing has been done with the narcotic drugs, such as morphine, cocaine, heroin, etc. Yet the prohibition of these hab-bit-forming drugs from general consumption did not banish them from the book of medicinal standards. Nor indeed has the inclusion of these narcotics in the Pharmacopoeia lists ever given them any wider use, as argued by some who are against the Pharmacopoeia recognition of medicinal spirits.

"One pessimistic editorial writer of a daily newspaper fears that the adoption of such legal standard may be expected to boom the demand for prescriptions. It will offer the only assurance of the "real stuff" if the prescriber and prescription filler pay more attention to the laws of the U.
S. Pharmacopoeia than they do to the Prohibition statutes."

"The fact of the matter, however, is that legitimate medicine and legiti-mate pharmacy, which are largely predominant despite the fears of uninformed newspaper scribblers, will be glad to find whisky and brandy placed where they legally belong, behind the bars of the Pharmacopoeia. Thus will the Government have in its hands a potential factor toward the prosecution of those who sell upon prescription or otherwise, vile and vicious stuff masquerading under the official titles. The conscienceless druggist will no longer find it safe to supply anything but that which comes up to official standards; and the wholesaler will likewise find it necessary to handle only standardized liquors.

"Indeed, even the bootlegger will feel the two-edged sword of the new order of things, for once the Pharma-copoeia provides standards for whisky it can hold that prosperous law-breaker for a double crime, for when he sells his vicious stuff as 'whisky' he is not only amenable to prosecution under the Prohibition statute, but also under the Pure Food and Drugs Act.

"By all means, then let these spirits back to the official book, altho providing adequate standards for them may prove today just as difficult as in those hectic days when Dr. Willey held the stage and championed all things pure."—Literary Digest.

STONE MOUNTAIN
MEMORIAL COINS

Skeptical countries or the old world which saw in the very sincerity of those who participated in America's tragic war of the 60's new proof of the mutability of republics, must have passed since Lee's surrender, the reuniting of a people in bonds apparently all the deeper that they were sealed with blood.

Once the breach began to heal, the veterans of the Confederacy were among the first to offer service in every time of national danger while they themselves as well as their sons and grandsons have shared with the north in the ardors and responsibilities of government. By share and share alike in the World War, the reconciliation was complete and north and south were one.

But even with all this, the recent act of Congress authorizing the issue of five million silver half-dollar pieces in commemoration of the southern heroes of the Stone Mountain Memorial is an official recognition of a so-called rebel foe such as has never perhaps been paralleled in history.

That a government should issue a coin bearing on one side a portrait of its own president and on the other the likeness of a man once called an arch-rebel against that very government, together with the two generals who most aided him is defying its power to bring him back to it, is a gesture of amity and reunion almost without precedent.

Yet this is what has been authorized by Congress, and that by unanimous vote together with the president's unhesitating signature of approval.

By such authorization the largest number of special coins ever issued by this government will be put into circulation with this fifty-cent piece bearing on its obverse, the profiles of Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, and Stonewall Jackson as they are being carved on the immortal rock of Stone Mountain, and with the face of President Harding on the reverse.

With the co-operation of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, the Stone Mountain Memorial is to handle the entire issue of the coin, on the basis of a dollar value on each,
with two million five hundred dollars thus in profit to the association's treasury, a sum that will go far toward finishing the colossal work.

That the coin will make a popular souvenir goes without saying. There will hardly be a state in the Union where people will not be interested in so unique a piece of money and pleased to own and keep it as a token of the underlying brotherhood and sympathy that makes our broad land one.

Here in the south we take this act as of something far more significant than a mere expression of good will that can let by-gones be by-gones to the extent of joining with one-time enemies in commemorating a cause called lost. A gesture like this comes from the depths of an understanding by which the people on each side of the once bitter contest now see not only the deep loyalty and patriotism by which the opponents were animated, but that in each case there were sincere and incontrovertible reasons for such faith. It has been proved by the years that lie between Fort Sumpter and our present-day, that there were principles on both sides of the old conflict that are very fibre and fabric of our government, built into it from its foundations, but not fully understood in their inseparable joint-relationship until after our people's vision has been washed clear by the blood of a great war.

What our armies gave overseas in the World War was a united service with sons, and grandsons of the men of the 60's fighting side by side.

The south can furnish no more unanswerable evidence of her allegiance to Old Glory than that she sent her sons to die for it.

The north's answer to such proof of love and loyalty is a deeper understanding of the patriotism of the men who followed Lee. Among many evidences of such understanding, the issuing of the Stone Mountain Memorial coin is an expression of the broad and open-minded spirit of kinship that makes our great country what it is.—Nashville Tennessean.

One of the largest and most interesting apiaries in the State of Missouri is located at the edge of Benton. It is owned and operated by L.
A. Schott. At this season of the year Mr. Schott is busy with his breeding colonies and getting ready for a big production of honey this year. Mr. Schott located here about six years ago, at a time when raising bees for profit was an almost unheard of thing here. At that time he bought several old box hives or bee gums, and transferred them into movable frame hives. Later on he purchased some very choice Italian queens and introduced them on these black or hybrid bees. As a result of this cross some of the hives that year produced as much as 100 pounds of honey.

Mr. Schott is a mechanic as well as a bee-keeper. He has constructed all of his hives by hand, and has made a great many more for his neighbors.
He has recently installed machinery to facilitate his work along this line.
He is well known throughout Southeast Missouri as a bee keeper and has conducted at his apiary a number of bee-keeping schools, where interested persons from the surrounding communities may come to study his methods of bee-keeping.
This has all been done without any direct profit to Mr. Schott.

One of the most interesting features of his work is the breeding of queen bees. This is a very careful and painstaking piece of work, and requires expert knowledge and untiring effort to get results. He ships these queens all over the country. The live queen bee is shipped in a small package by parcel post. Mr. Schott says that the very life of the colony depends upon a good queen, one that is capable of laying from 2,000 eggs per day.

"To produce honey, one must have a big force of bees," says Mr. Schott.
"The production of an apiary cannot be measured by the number of colonies it contains, but by the number of bees in the individual colonies. The only way to achieve the best results is to see that each colony is in good working order by the time the flow opens. Southeast Missouri is an ideal place for the production of honey on a commercial scale. There are many reasons for this, among which are the many miles of drainage ditches providing ample water, and the undeveloped land providing splendid forage among the wild flowers and blossoms that grow so abundantly in
wide diversity of crop production in this section that the bees have something to feed on almost the year round. Bee keepers in this section produce a much better grade of honey, both in flavor and weight, than the
here never falls below 12 pounds to the gallon, whereas the western honey seldom goes over 11 pounds.
The winters here are not cold enough to cause freezing out and the summers are not so hot as to cause the combs of wax to melt. Very seldom do bee keepers take any extra precautions to carry the bees through the winter, and spring feeding is seldom practiced in this community. There is always a certain amount of honey produced each year from some source or other. In the spring of the year there are dandelions, willows and all kinds of fruit blossoms, also alsike clover, which grows abundantly in this section. These forage crops for bees are followed by cow peas, watermelons, cotton blossoms, etc. In the fall there is a profusion of wild flowers, such as bonaset, Spanish needle, smartweed, golden rod and aster.
By all odds, the most serious enemy to the bees and bee keeping is the carelessness or ignorance of the keeper himself, who allows diseases and pests to harbor in his hives. Such a man places in jeopardy the interests of every other keeper for miles around. While bees do not ordinarily fly over two miles, one is usually safe if he is that far away from a foul brood apiary, yet in the course of a year or two the colonies in the diseased yard will die, and the bees from a healthy brood will rob the honey from the diseased colonies and carry the infection to the healthy colony."

Mr. Schott says that this community has some of the best soil for fruit that he has ever seen and that when
honey for the bee keeper. He also explodes another oldtime theory, and that is that bees injure fruit. "It is more likely," says Mr. Schott, "that some insect or bird punctures the fruit and the bees take advantage of the opening to sip the juices which go to waste. Bees cannot make honey out of fruit juices. Orchard fruits are largely pollinated by bees, and therefore bees are an advantage in a fruit-growing section, rather than a disturbance."

Many farmers throughout Southeast Missouri have followed the ex-

Sikeston Folks

CLEAN UP - PAINT UP

Beginning on Monday morning, May 5th, and lasting all of the week, the City has employed draymen to haul away all old rubbish and trash. You will please arrange to have all your old tin cans, bottles, junk of all kinds placed in good boxes, sacks, barrels, etc., and place them either in front of your property or at the back in the alley, so that the drayman can drive along and load all of them. You will please burn everything that can be burned.

Any person failing to comply with this request is violating a City Ordinance and will be subject to arrest.

On May 22, 23 and 24 we have the Southeast Missouri Drummers Association to meet here in Sikeston with us. Now, people, these drummers are a walking advertisement all over Missouri and adjoining states, and I want us to have our town so dressed up that they will go away saying that Sikeston is the cleanest and prettiest town that they have met in for years. We can do this if all only work to that end. Let us have no old rubbish around our places; let us have our places painted; let us have our back fences and out-buildings white-washed; have no old toilets that need attention, and for the sake of your family keep the old toilets limed weekly. Let us have our yards mowed and not allow weeds to gather around our places. The City has to go to quite an expense in this matter and needs the co-operation of every citizen in town on this Clean-up campaign. It certainly makes our town more healthy to keep all the old filth out of it.

Besides the meeting of the drummers here, Sikeston is now having numbers of home-seekers here weekly, looking for places to locate, besides the many families that come into our town on Sundays—sight-seeing. So it is only up to us folks here to show all these people that we keep our town neat and clean
the year round. The pesky old fly season is now near and I trust that we will all keep swatting the fly and destroy all old breeding places, also destroy all mosquito breeding places.

C. E. FELKER, Mayor.

ample set by Mr. Schott, and have established a small apiary on their farms. Money derived from this source is added as almost clear profit to the farmer. Sufficient interest has been raised through the efforts of Mr. Schott to establish the Southeast Missouri Beekeepers' Association, which meets at regular intervals and discusses problems affecting their industry.—Commercial Appeal.

Windbreaks Give Protection And Make Farm Pelasant

Windbreaks are, in more ways than one, a farm asset and every farm should have its windbreak. They tend to prevent the soil from drying out quickly and they protect grain and orchards from mechanical injury
farm buildings protects them from extreme winter cold and summer heat, and makes the farm a pleasant place in which to live. The windbreaks may also be a source of wood supply for use on the farm or for sale.

The effect of a windbreak may not always be beneficial to a crop near
the total effect of a windbreak is good or bad, however, depends upon whether the benefits derived from its influence on wind movement, temperature, and evaporation are greater or less than the injury resulting from the sapping and shading of the ground near by. To determine the total effect, crop measurements have been made by the United States Department of Agriculture in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, and Minnesota.
Average rather than exceptional conditions were measured, the object being to discover the effect of those influences which are continuous and affect every annual crop grown.

Measurements made in fields of small grain indicate that the crop gain in the protected zone is sufficient to offset fully the effects of shading and sapping. Is a wheat field protected by a dense windbreak the gain amounted to about 10 bushels per acre where the protection was complete, and gradually grew less as the distance from the windbreak increased. The total gain was about equal to the amount of grain which could have been grown on the shaded ground near the trees.

The corn crops showed more consistent and marked benefits from protection than any others. Height measurements on one field showed the plants to be 4½ feet high in the first 18 rows next to the windbreak, while beyond this protected zone the height was only 2½ feet. The field showed a production of 59 bushels per acre in the protected zone and only 41 bushels in the exposed part.

With ordinary field crops the farmer may count on a benefit from wind-break protection which will make the
negligible. Under Middle Western conditions a windbreak whose width does not exceed two or three times its height will more than pay for itself regardless of the timber which may be produced.

BELGIUM IN THE NEW

THE LATEST IN SENSATIONS

Washington, April 28.—A sensation was sprung in the Senate agriculture committee today when Chairman Norris read into the record a telegram in which President Coolidge was quoted as saying he hoped Henry Ford would not do or say anything "that will make it difficult for me to deliver Muscle Shoals to him as I am trying to do".

Women prisoners in the Bucks County Jail, at Doylestown, Pa., of their sentence.

It took 60 rows of corn to make a wagonload, three years ago, from a field on the farm of V. H. Price, of Tipton County, Tennessee. But for three years this farmer has been demonstrating soil building through growing legumes, in co-operation with the county agricultural agent, planting lespedeza and following with corn and soybeans. In 1923, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, only 20 rows of corn from this field were needed to make a wagonload.

The State Highway Commission through its testing department has been experimenting with paint for bridges. South of Jefferson City a bridge was painted last year in several colors. What time with wind and weather will do to this paint will be carefully watched. The result will show which paint will last the longest and be the most economical. With hundreds of bridges to keep in repair, the saving to the state in paint alone can be readily understood.

School Boys to Hold Land Clearing Demonstration

On Saturday, May 3, the Manual Training Class of the Morehouse High School will demonstrate the use of the Paul Bunyan Hammer and the pulling of stumps. These boys have made, under the direction of Bryce Edwards, their own hammer and at this demonstration will operate it themselves. This hammer is of great service in the clearing of land since many of the smaller stumps can be quite easily and quickly removed with practically no expense. Those interested in land clearing methods are urged to come to this demonstration by the high school boys.

Ladies Aid Has Cotton Crop

The Ladies' Aid of the Morehouse Methodist Church have a cotton crop on M. S. Tyson's farm. This is a share crop, Mr. Tyson furnishing mules and tools the same as to a tenant, and the Ladies' Aid administering and seeing that the work is done. This is not the first effort of this kind, since the same ladies worked a crop last year and made it pay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Matthews, Lynn Stallcup, and Mr. and Mrs. Moore Greer attended the Country Club dance at Cape Girardeau Wednesday night.

In Japan, an automobile is a real luxury. A license on a car of the cheapest type costs about $300, while gasoline, with taxes added, means an expense of approximately a dollar a gallon. In addition, practically all cars come from America, and the motorist must pay an import of 45 per cent.

Just to show what a gigantic task it is to construct highways in Missouri the figures from the report of the Bridge Engineer of the State Highway Commission lets a little light on this subjects. In the last three years, the Bridge Department of the Commission has drawn plans for 32,683 feet of bridges. This does not include the culverts under 12 feet in length. Carried out it means the Department has drawn plans for and constructed along the State highways six miles of bridges if they were placed together end to end.

CORRESPONDENCE FROM MOREHOUSE

Bob Barnes had his new Ford car stolen last Saturday night. He parked it on Beech Street, upon returning no trace could be found of it.

There will be a demonstration of the use of the Paul Bunyan hammer for stump pulling on the Himmelberger farm, one mile north of Morehouse, Saturday afternoon at 2:00. The land lies West of the Frisco crossing and is farmed by Charles Wofford. The work of this simple stump puller is truly remarkable, and everyone interested should see the demonstration.

The Co-Workers of Sikeston had an all day session with Mrs. I. H. Dunaway on Tuesday of this week.

The lower grades of the Morehouse school have been energetically practicing a May Day program including marches, songs and special numbers, which will be presented on the school grounds the afternoon of May the first.

There has been a marked decrease in the number of domestic servants since 1900, when the total number was over 2,000,000 and which in 1920 dwindled to nearly 1,000,000.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, speaking at Gloucester, Mass., said: "We hear much talk nowadays about the relative purchasing power of the dollar which, many experts tell us, is in 1924 just 65 per cent of what it was in 1913. This discussion is unprofitable. Our 1924 dollars is worth 100 cents in 1924, and looking backwards will not make it worth a penny more. We have adjusted ourselves to the 1924 dollar. We are paying more for things we need and we are, constantly needing more things, but we are likewise earning more than we were in 1913".

Do a Row at a Time with the John Deere DF

Note these great advantages:

- A simple, depth-adjusting device insures even cultivation at the depth desired—just a turn of a tail bolt does it.
- Hugging device makes it easy to keep rigs parallel with the row, no matter how the shovels are set—a great advantage when hilling or laying by a crop.
- Correct attachment of strong lifting springs makes it easy to handle light or heavy rigs.
- Simple adjustment secures the deep penetration sometimes required in black land or other heavy soil.
- Adjustable arch—the DF cultivates wide or narrow rows.
- Improved cone-coupling—no adjustment required except to take up wear.

"Triumph" Is a Triumph

In his latest motion picture, "Triumph", coming to the Malone Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Cecil B. De Mille, the most brilliant showman-producer in the whole screen world, returns to the type of modern society drama in which he scored his earlier and most decided successes. Film fans who recall with pleasure "Man-slaughter", "Why Change Your Wife", and "Male and Female", are assured that in "Triumph" Mr. De Mille offers them the same gripping, eye-filling combination of dazzling ladies and gowns, romance and thrill that made those pictures so popular.
"Triumph" is the story of a girl (Leatrice Joy) and two men who love her. The girl starts as a humble factory forelady and becomes a famous opera singer with two worlds at her feet. And yet wealth and fame are not enough until—

Scenes filmed amid the thundering cogs of a great factory, a fight between the rival lovers in a limousine going 90 miles an hour, spectacular cafe and modiste-shop scenes, a daring fire scene, a charming vision episode involving "Romeo and Juliet"—these are some of the delights awaiting you in "Triumph". Be sure and see it!

"Triumph" was adapted by Jeanie Macpherson from the Saturday Evening Post serial and novel by May Edginton, author of "Secrets". Besides Leatrice Joy, Rod La Rocque, and Victor Varconi, the big cast includes Charles Ogle, Theodore Kosloff, Robert Edeson, Julia Faye, Geo. Fawcett, Zasu Pitts and Raymond Hatton. It is a Paramount Picture, produced by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

DAUGHERTY ELECTED DELEGATE FROM OHIO

Columbus, Ohio, April 29.—Former Attorney General Daugherty was running fourth in a field of seven Coolidge candidates for delegate at large to the Republican national convention on returns from 467 out of a total of 8,350 precincts in Ohio in today's primaries. Senator Simeon D. Fess was leading the Coolidge candidates for delegate at large with 3,339 votes as compared with 708 votes for John D. Fackler, the leading Johnson candidate. Daugherty had 2,725 votes, C. L. Knight 3,224 and Senator Willis 2,738. All Coolidge delegates were far ahead of the Johnson delegates.

On the same returns the high Cox candidate had polled four to one as many votes as the high McAdoo candidate.
Returns from 193 precincts in the presidential preferential primary out of a total of 8,350 in the state gave President Coolidge 3,552, Senator Hiram W. Johnson 440. In 175 precincts James M. Cox had 1,771 to 821 for William G. McAdoo for the Democratic endorsement.

Sleeper Service Lost

Poplar Bluff, Mo., April 29.—A sleeper service between Charleston and St. Louis on the Missouri Pacific will not materialize. In a conference held here yesterday the matter came up. Poplar Bluff business men objected to a change of the schedule on the Cairo branch where Charleston advocated it. Charleston wanted the sleeper put on and the time of the arrival of the Cairo to Poplar Bluff passenger train changed from 6:50 to 8:50 p. m., so that Charleston patrons could board the sleeper after business hours to go to St. Louis. Poplar Bluff objected to the change in schedule for the reason that 50 traveling men who live in Poplar Bluff use the evening train to get home at nights. The Missouri Pacific went on record as unfavorable to the change of schedule without approval of Poplar Bluff and when local interests refused approval Charleston had but one alternative—accept the sleeper on the regular schedule. Charleston went on record as not wanting the sleeper at all unless the set-back schedule could be secured, and this important addition to passenger service was lost to Southeast Missouri.

MEXICAN REBEL GENERAL AND 42 AIDS ARE EXCITED

Mexico City, April 28.—Gen. Juan Alonso, and 42 subordinate officers, captured by the Federal troops Saturday near the town of Ixtapa, State of Chiapas, were given a summary court martial and immediately executed, according to an official report received at the War Office today from Gen. Agapito Lastra.

In addition to the officers captured and executed, Gen. Lastra's forces took more than 190 soldiers prisoner. The remainder of Alonso's band of 300 were killed in battle. Among the officers executed were two colonels, five lieutenant-colonels and 6 majors. The remainder were captains and lieutenants.

Lincoln, besieged in his first days as President by office-seekers at the same time that the Civil War was breaking out, declared, "I feel like a man letting lodgings at one end of the house while the other end is on fire."

EASTERN SHOE FACTORIES CUT

Boston, Mass., April 28.—Due to overproduction, New England shoe manufacturers are preparing to cut wages in order to compete more successfully with middle-western and other shoe centers.

Three centers in the New England field are working on wage readjustments, each having a problem strictly its own.

Of the three, perhaps Haverhill at present has most at stake since several concerns there have been forced to liquidate within the past few months, while others threaten to move away. Two large concerns have declared for wage reductions ranging from 25 to 40 per cent.

In Lynn, where a number of concerns have also been forced to liquidate during the past year, a secession movement in the Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America has followed awards by the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration cutting wages from 12 to 25 per cent. Workers assert the secession movement includes about 5000 members.

In Brockton, factories are running on greatly curtailed schedules. Negotiations are progressing and a slight wage reduction is probable within a few weeks.

SULLY ADVISES PLANTERS TO CURTAIL COTTON ACREAGE

St. Louis, April 28.—Daniel J. Sully, heralded as "Cotton King" 20 years ago, when he fought English capital for control of the cotton market, when in St. Louis Sunday advised Southern planters to decrease their acreage and increase quality to be assured good prices.

"The supply even now is less than the demand, and if it is further curtailed so that spinners in England and elsewhere must fight for short crops, then the planter will come in to his own", Sully said. He had been for several days on business, but left Sunday night for Chicago. He now lives at Los Angeles.

Sully was defeated in his efforts to force England to pay greatly increased prices for cotton but his attempted corner, seeking to aid the planters, won him the admiration of planters.

Miss J. D. Banbridge has been employed consecutively for 38 years in one tea shop in London.

Charles I of England, who was executed on February 9, 1649, is said to have put on two shirts on the morning of his death, saying "If I were to tremble from cold, my enemies would attribute it to fear; I do not wish to expose myself to such a reproach".

BIRDS TO BE BANDED AT MOUTH OF YUKON

Bird-banding operations will be a feature of an expedition now on its way to the migratory wild-fowl breeding grounds south of the mouth of the Yukon River in Alaska. This expedition is being financed by two members of the party, and is in charge of Olaus J. Murie, who has been engaged for some time on studies of the distribution and habits of the native caribou in Alaska for the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is believed that the expedition will afford not only an excellent opportunity for studying a great number of breeding migratory wild fowl in their summer homes, but also for banding a large number of ducks and geese on this great breeding ground. If such birds are later taken during the hunting season in different parts of Canada and the United States, valuable information regarding their routes of travel and their wintering grounds will be obtained. The expedition's route is by the Government railroad to Nenana on the Tanana River, and thence by dog sled 800 miles to the mouth of the Yukon. The party is now well advanced on the last lap of this journey.

Farm Census Questions

Sweaters, though universally worn now, were unknown to the general world until a generation ago. It was the sailors and fishermen of Northern Europe who introduced sweaters into society and set the fashion.

Sardinia boasts the largest artificial lake in Europe. A power and irrigation improvement has recently been completed there on the River Tirsio, in connection with which 420,000,000 cubic meters of water have been impounded. And this, it is stated, is only the first of seven huge artificial reservoirs included in the project.

That Government seals placed on inspected meat shipments are not to be tampered with is the expensive lesson recently impressed on a Pittsburgh firm. A freight car loaded with sweet pickle hams was shipped from Milwaukee. The shipment had been inspected and passed and the car sealed and marked officially by United States meat inspectors. When the car arrived in Pittsburgh an employee of the consignee broke the Government seal under the direction of his foreman. This is contrary to Federal regulations, which requires that such seals be broken only by officially employed inspectors. For the violation of this regulation the firm was prosecuted by the United States Department of Agriculture and a fine of $50 imposed.

CLEANINGS FROM THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

New Instrument Warns of Strains on Airships

The United States Bureau of Standards has perfected a new instrument which can be placed in any part of a structure of metal girders, like the framework of an airship, and which will indicate electrically whether the strain on a certain girder is safe or is too great. Such an instrument in the nosecap of the Shenandoah would have indicated the dangerous strain before the ship broke away. It can be used in the framework of buildings, and it can be arranged to indicate strains due to compression as well as to tension.

The Most Wonderful Fact in the Universe

Prof. Baxter of Harvard has examined with the most extreme care some small bits of metal that have fallen from the sky as meteorites. They contain a little of the chemical element called cobalt. Prof. Baxter finds that this celestial cobalt is exactly the same in every way as cobalt that miners find right here on earth. Nobody knows just where the cobalt in the meteorites came from; perhaps from some exploded star billions of miles off in space. Yet it is the same as ours. Throughout the universe, throughout space so vast that we cannot even imagine it, in the midst of millions of flying stars and flaming suns, the laws of chemistry and the nature of chemicals are everywhere the same. Surely no fact that we know is more marvelous than this.

Solid Glass Is Like a Sieve

The same week that Prof. Baxter announced his discovery about the cobalt in meteorites, Dr. Van Voorhis of Princeton told the American Physical Society that helium gas (the same gas that is used to inflate the navy airship Shenandoah) would leak through solid glass. If you corked up some helium in a glass bottle and left it alone for a long enough time all the helium would leak out. Glass seems solid but really there are millions of tiny spaces between the invisible atoms of it. Tiny as these spaces are the helium slowly gets through them.

Married Atoms That Make Food For Us.

Four-fifths of the air is nitrogen gas. It is useless. But nitrogen in other forms make fertilizers and helps grow wheat to makes bread. Why the difference? Simply this: The nitrogen in the air exists in a state of single blessedness, it is just nitrogen. In the fertilizers the nitrogen has got married; each atom of the nitrogen has attached itself to an atom of oxygen. Like so many people, the married nitrogen goes to work; the single nitrogen loaf. One of the most important discoveries of recent years was made a short time ago in the Fixed Nitrogen Laboratory of the United States Government. It was the discovery of a way to make the nitrogen of the air get married; to convert the useless kind of nitrogen which is so plentiful in the air into the married kind that we need for fertilizers.

Are Insects Winning Over Man?

Dr. L. O. Howard, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology at Washington, flippantly known as the "bug bureau", has made a surprising announcement. He says that injuries caused by insects to farm crops make a money loss of more than $2,000,000,000 each year. If we add to this the other injuries that insects do us, such, for example, as the spread of disease by mosquitoes and flies, it is evident that the greatest battle that confronts the human race is that against these tiny creatures that challenge our control of the earth we so complacently call our own. If the insects ever combined against us man would probably not last out a year.

But the insects do not combine against man as we do against them. The reason is that they seem to have little or no intelligence. Their substitute for it is what we call instinct. Instinct makes all the insects do the same things. Over and over again, generation after generation, they keep on building their houses in the same way, fighting in the same way. They are the complete conservatives. No insect ever makes a new invention. Man does. So man keeps ahead.

A Hopeful Frenchman

A French clockmaker named Lavat has succeeded in devising a clock so well made and so accurately adjusted that it will run for a thousand years without needing to be wound up a second time. This is a remarkable accomplishment in mechanics and in the science of timekeeping, but it is more than that. It is a lesson in optimism. Monsieur Lavat is evidently of the opinion that man is going to last for a thousand years and to need clocks for all that time. The threat of insect dominance does not seem to worry him or his clocks. Let us hope he is right, about man at least.

FENTON FOLK LOSE FIGHT AGAINST REROUTING OF ROAD

Jefferson City, April 29.—Two injunctions sought against the State Highway Commission to restrain it from altering the routing of State Highways in St. Louis County and Pettis County, were denied today by Circuit Judge Henry J. Westhues, in rulings handed down in Cole County Circuit Court. The Judge held that the State highway system was being built for the entire State and that the commission had full authority to make any changes in routing deemed necessary for public safety.

One of the injunction proceedings involved a protest of residents of Fenton, St. Louis County, against the plan of the commission to relocate a bridge and the routing of a road now passing through Fenton. The commission proposed to build a new bridge at the outskirts of Fenton, thus eliminating dangerous curve at an approach of the present bridge over the Meramec River.

Residents of Smithton, Pettis County, sought to restrain the commission from altering the route of State Highway No. 12, now passing through Smithton, so that it would pass north of the town. The purpose of the change was to eliminate two grade crossings over railroad tracks. Several garage owners joined in the proceedings. The judge held that it was "not a part of the duty of the highway commission to see that a State road passes in front of every garage now in existence".

The favorite goal of the Italian immigrant, according to a census of Italians resident abroad, is the Argentine. Of the South American country's population of less than 9,000,000, nearly a million and a third are of Italian birth and a quarter million are children of Italian fathers.

COMPETITION KEEN IN ROAD CONSTRUCTION

The State Highway Commission has held a number of road lettings this spring and the competition among contractors for these jobs has been spirited. The result has been to keep road building prices down to the minimum thereby saving the state much money.

At the letting in April for every job there was an average of five bids submitted. Some of the road jobs had as many as 10 competitive bids submitted. The bids are opened and read in Public and broadcasted by wireless from the Capitol Building.

All Road Material Tested

The State Highway Commission is seeking to construct roads only from the best material available in the state. For that reason every shipment of cement, some gravel, sand and steel that goes into a highway or a bridge is carefully inspected in advance.

Last year the testing laboratory of the Highway Commission made 5,375 laboratory tests of road building material. In addition field tests were made on 14,523 cars of cement, sand, gravel and stone. If placed in trains this material would fill a continuous line of freight cars extending over a distance of 123 miles, reaching as far as the distance from Jefferson City to St. Louis. These cars would make 290 trains of 50 cars each.

This does not include bridge timber, piling, and reinforcing steel of which 981,700 board feet, 92,000 lineal feet, and 12,000,000 pounds, respectively, were tested. All of this material was carefully tested by the State Highway Department.

FIGURES SHOW COST OF OUR MUD ROADS

If there is an automobile owner in Scott County, who cannot figure out just how expensive an unimproved road is, we can enlighten him.

Chief Engineer Piepmeyer of the Highway Commission, shows the cost of operating an automobile over paved roads to be about 9 cents per mile. The cost of running a car over dirt roads averages about 11½ cents. Look at your meter and see how many miles it registers then multiply that total by 2½ cents and you will find out what you paid tax to a dirt road throughout the year.

Miss Joy entertained the cast of "Triumph" at Ma-Jong in this costume recently.

What's a De Mille creation without gorgeous ladies in gorgeous gowns? "Triumph" has its full share of them.

"TRIUMPH"

IN his latest motion picture, "Triumph," Cecil B. De Mille, the most brilliant showman-producer in the whole screen world, returns to the type of modern society drama in which he scored his earlier and most decided successes. Film fans who recall with pleasure "Manslaughter," "Why Change Your Wife?" and "Male and Female," are assured that in "Triumph" Mr. De Mille offers them the same gripping, eye-filling combination of dazzling ladies and gowns, romance and thrill that made those pictures so popular.

Suppose you took a girl to a restaurant and a handsome waiter made love to her! One of the amusing twists in "Triumph."

"I don't want a millionaire playboy; I want a real man!" she said.

OPENING GAME OF BASEBALL SUNDAY

Sunday is our opening game and we want to see all the community out helping Sikeston boys get a good start. The team has been working hard to get in form and by the time for the game Sunday, I think you will agree we have a pretty snappy team, consisting of all home talent. We have been working on improvements on our field and grand stand, and the latter has been screened so the game is directly in front of the spectators, which enable them to have a good view without any danger of being struck by foul balls.

Dexter defeated Bloomfield Sunday and we trimmed Bloomfield Sunday a week ago, so we are expecting a hard fight, but we feel we are able to put the necessary punch in the game to put over a winner on our first appearance. Don't fail to help us trim Dexter, as you would like to see us.

We think we have done our part in developing a team and a good park, so for our work, all we ask is, your good support, the same we feel confident you will render.

We wish to announce we are not going to play nothing but teams of good ability. Following Sunday's game, we play Cairo K. I. T. League, two games, Saturday and Sunday at Cairo and all who can drive over and help us win a game from an organized League, will be greatly appreciated.

In conclusion we want to thank every individual for the help they gave in financing our needs of suits and various necessities, so come out Sunday and see us all dressed up with new uniforms on a better field than we have had for some time.

Again thanking you for your help, we await for your numerous faces to appear Sunday.

Expressing itself as being unwilling to sleep out on past reputations for exhibits at county and community fairs, the New Madrid County Farm Bureau has taken a step forward and will take a county exhibit to the Missouri State Fair to be held at Sedalia, August 16 to 23, in addition to the exhibits that will be shown at the local fairs of Southeast Missouri.

The committee in charge of the collection and preparation of the exhibit, as appointed by J. K. Robbins, President of the County organization, is as follows: Fred Geske, Canaan; T. A. Penman, Portageville; A. O. Ault, Gideon; Alfred Stepp, New Madrid and Geo. M. Meier, Parma.

Last year New Madrid placed good exhibits at some of the county fairs of Southeast Missouri, but did not have an agricultural exhibit to the State Fair. The Farm Bureau and farmers of New Madrid County are looking forward to an exceptionally good exhibit for the coming State Fair.

The D. A. R. will hold their last meeting of this season Saturday afternoon, May 3rd, at the home of Mrs. E. J. Malone, Sr.

It looks like the Chillicothe Business College, as in the past two years, will again win the baseball championship of the Missouri State Conference as it is leading the conference by a good margin.

A conference is soon to be called at Cairo, Ill., to discuss the possibility of re-establishing the railroad incline on Missouri side of the Mississippi river opposite Cairo. The citizens of Cairo are much interested in this project as well as the agricultural and business interests of Southeast Missouri. Should the incline be re-established, it will provide for shorter outlets for Southeast Missouri grain, cotton and other products, and will be a great saving in the aggregate on freight shipments. The Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau has had this matter up with the Missouri Pacific Railroad and has received favorable replies from the officials of that company. They have asked that a committee from the Bureau meet with their officials to discuss the project. The Secretary of the Bureau was in Cairo last week and arranged for a joint conference with the railroad officials, the business men of Cairo and a committee from Southeast Missouri. The conference will be held in Cairo as soon as the railroad officials fix a definite date.

Much Interest Displayed in the Tri-State Bridge at Cairo

Letters have been received at the headquarters of the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau from all of the Congressmen and United States Senators in Missouri, expressing their interest in the recent bill introduced in Congress providing for a preliminary examination and survey of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers at the junction of the Ohio river with the Mississippi river, for the purpose of determining the practicability and feasibility, and estimating the cost of a tri-State bridge over these rivers as a link in existing or proposed inter-State highways and as a memorial to ex-service men of the World War. This bill was introduced by Hon. J. F. Fulbright, Congressman from the Fourteenth District. From the letters received, it is evident that all of the Missouri members of Congress who have informed themselves of the bill are lined up for it. A few of the members had not heard of the bill and promised in their letters to inform themselves immediately.

The Secretary of the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau made a trip through the district last week and called on a number of the members in several counties. Both from observation and reports given him from farmers in the different communities, the outlook for crops this year is better at the present time than it has been at the same time for many years past. This condition prevails throughout the entire Southeast Missouri district. So far the spring has been exceedingly dry and the farmers have been enabled to work steadily. As a result of this, most of the cotton and corn ground is already prepared and much of it already seeded. It is true that in most communities they are beginning to need rain, and a good rain would be most welcome, but so far there has been no cause to complain of the dry weather. Present conditions are quite a contrast to that of this time last year when the farmers were terribly handicapped on account of too much rain. The rivermen say that the Mississippi river is apparently at its highest point just now and that there will be no further rises of any consequence this year.

The cotton acreage will be materially increased over last year, due chiefly to the fact that the farmers have been able to prepare the land and seed it. Hardware merchants report a very active trade in farm machinery, especially that which applies to the cotton crop.

"Three Live Ghosts", May 14.

The Standard received a pleasant call, Wednesday morning, from Fred Endicott, publisher of the White County Democrat of Carmi, Ill. Mr. Endicott was on his way to New Madrid to look after some business affairs.

A new printer in The Standard office signed an advertisement Job Reiss instead of John Reiss. The correction has been made and John can tell his friends that the error did not cause him the kind of suffering that was attributed to Job, though it caused him more or less annoyance.

The editor had a compliment paid him last week that was unintended. An employee of this office, while trading at one of the stores, was told by the clerk that he did not like The Standard as the editor talked too plain with no regard for ones feelings. It may be that this fellow or some of his friends have had their toes stepped on in some manner. No law abiding citizen need fear The Standard and the other kind can go to H—alifax.

Two young men of Sikeston were arrested Monday by Officer J. H. Hayden for issuing worthless checks to merchants out of town. These boys gave checks for $3 and $4 and drawn on the Sikeston Trust Company who returned them marked "no funds." It is a serious matter to obtain money in this way and this should be a warning to others who do such tricks. It has been but a week or ten days ago since a Sikeston married man was arrested for giving a check for about $6 to an Illinois merchant when he had no money on deposit. Out of regard for their families we will not print their names at this time.

A Word From Judge Lescher

Officer Noblin took the number of a car Saturday evening for fast driving on Prosperity Street and he appeared Monday morning before Judge Lescher, but was turned loose without a fine. The officer said the boy was driving from 20 to 25 miles an hour. Guess somebody will have to be killed before this law is enforced.

In answer to the above, will say that officer Noblin didn't know how fast the above party was running, he just thought the party was running 20 miles per hour. The only way to ascertain how fast a car is being driven is to have a motorcycle cop. Cases like this has been tried in police court several times and by jury never a conviction, because a jury won't convict just because somebody thinks a car is exceeding the speed limit. You have got to know, not guess. I am more than willing to fine every man, woman, white or black, rich or poor, when proof is at hand for speeding, cutting corners and fast driving at intersections of streets. Also for failing to blow their horn at crossings.—J. C. Lescher.

Safety first. The big Buick that the editor has been riding home to his meals in occasionally, does not belong to the editor. If we had that much money we would have paid up all our debts long ago. We hope this will be read by certain parties that we would to see it!

Miss Ellen Hayden and Manning Greer motored to Jackson last Saturday and were quietly married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hayden of this city and a Senior in High School here. Mr. Greer is connected with the Scott County Milling Co. The young couple will make their home at Benton. The Standard extends congratulations to them.

Mrs. Ray Oliver entertained Thursday night with a Five Hundred party. The dining room and living room were beautifully decorated in pink and white roses for the occasion. Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wentz, Dr. and Mrs. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Blankenship, Miss Blankenship, Miss Covington, Louis Montgomery and John Covington, all of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Forrester, Miss Helen Grojean, Chris Francis and Jeanne Hirschberg. At the close of the game, a two-course luncheon was served.

Several days ago one of the most interesting Apary meetings ever held in Scott County, was conducted on the Court House lawn at Benton. More than twenty-five interested beekeepers were present and took active part in the transferring of bees from an old box and one from a log which was obtained from Carl Luper of Benton.

After this meeting, the Scott county Beekeepers held their annual meeting at which time J. P. Hoffman of Oran was elected President and L. A. Schott, Secretary-Treasurer. This organization decided to pool an order for pure bred Italian queens. The following men ordered 115 queens, which will be shipped within the next twenty days: J. P. Hoffman, Joseph Laux, Oran; Carl Luper, Benton; Theon Grojean, New Hamburg; J. Boston, Sikeston; A. A. Gannan, Chaffee; A. J. Renner, L. A. Schott, Wm. Le Grand, Benton; Joe Ellis, Lemm Buck, Commerce.

Blasting Demonstrations

The two blasting demonstrations which were conducted on the farms of Andy Heisserer and Amos Drury, were considered great success by the fifty-two men who were present. Stumps of all descriptions were blown from the soil, with the use of Sodato, the explosive which is supplied to the farmers by the Government. After the stumps were blown, the remaining spare roots were pulled with the Paul Bunyon hammer, which is now display in front of the Court House at Benton.

At the meeting held on Mr. Smith's farm on Klugg's hill, a half bushel of bait was mixed and distributed to the farmers of that district. Another meeting was held at Morley on Tuesday, April 22, by County Agent Renner, at which time similar instructions were given over to the control of these pests; likewise, he explained the use of nico-dust to control the striped cucumber beetles which bother the young plants.

CONSTITUTION ESSAY CONTEST AT MALONE THEATRE, FRIDAY

Friday morning at 9:00 a. m., the following schools will compete in the Constitution Essay Contest: Charleston, Kennett, Campbell, Lilbourn, Morley, Diehlstadt, and Sikeston. The winner is to represent the Sikeston District at St. Louis in 49th State finals. The Woman's Club is offering $10 to the winner. Admission to the contest will be free.

Western Union Rebuilding Lines

A foreman and fourteen men have been making their headquarters in Sikeston for several weeks. Work has progressed from St. Louis on the Missouri Pacific to a point near Sikeston on the east and from Poplar Bluff close to Sikeston. New poles and wire being installed. The payroll of the gang amounts to several hundred dollars per week. Western Union will also shortly begin work on reconstruction of lines on Frisco railroad.

"Three Live Ghosts", May 14.

Mrs. Nora Story, who has been visiting several days in this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Welther, returned to her home in St. Louis, Wednesday.

Mrs. Eva Utzage died of tuberculosis at her home near Vanduser, Tuesday and was buried at Morley Thursday. She was born October 15, 1886 and was 37 years of age at the time of her death. Besides her husband she leaves three children and a host of friends to mourn her passing.

Pat Dyer, Federal Judge at St. Louis, died at his home in that city Tuesday of this week, at the age of 86 years. He had been in public life since the civil war and had filled many offices from the Legislature in Missouri to Congress in Washington. He was a genial gentleman to meet and had many expressions that was not always dignified for a Federal Judge, but were very expressive. The editor of The Standard has reasons to remember Judge Dyer, but he is now dead and the unkindly feelings we might have had for him twenty years ago are buried with his passing.

UNION ELECTRIC CO. MADE NO CUT RATE

C. E. Brenton, manager of the Union Electric Company, for Southeast Missouri, had the following to say of the hearing held at Poplar Bluff:

"We were very much pleased with the result of the hearing recently held before Commissioner Bean of the Public Service Commission concerning the complaints which the Board of Public Works of Poplar Bluff made against the Union Electric Company. The city showed instances where the Missouri Public Utilities Company prior to the present management added some residences under competitive conditions at rates which varied with the regular schedule. No cases were shown against the present management. We have not needed to discriminate in Poplar Bluff in order to hold the business. As elsewhere, we have enjoyed an excellent business over there. With an increase of 28 per cent in the number of customers, we feel this is definite proof that we have the good will of the general public at Poplar Bluff.

"The charge against the Company, that the Union Company was losing money in its operation at Poplar Bluff and using net revenues from other communities in the district to drive competition out of the city, was unfounded and withdrawn by the city before the Commissioner took action.

"Since the whole case then dwindled down to nothing more than correcting the bills of some residence customers taken on the lines a year or two ago, the Union Company volunteered to make the necessary audit and corrections and to provide the city and the Public Service Commission with a report of them. In turn, the city officials agreed to permit a representative of the Union Company to examine into its rates to determine if any customers were rendered service at a price more favorable than the regular schedule and for any such, the city also agreed to make corrections.

"We believe that we not only have the good will of the Poplar Bluff people, but by our volunteering to make corrections of some deviations from the regular rates made some time ago, we believe we have now gained the good will of all of the members of the Board of Public Works which we are very glad to add to the good will we enjoy from the general public of Poplar Bluff."

Whisky Is Medicine Again

its status as a legitimate medicine,which of course was never denied it by the Volstead Law. Ivor Griffith,
mission has been the subject of much recent newspaper comment. As usual there is a diversity of opinion regarding the benefit which may or may not accrue, but generally it is agreed that so long as the Prohibition law qualifies these spirits as legitimate therapeutic agents the Government's authority for medical
purity of whisky and brandy. Mr.
Griffith continues:"Physicians rather uniformly agree that whisky is a valuable medicinal. The country, however, has opinionated that whisky is a danger-
cept when administered under competent medical supervision."Practically the same thing has been done with the narcotic drugs,
such as morphine, cocaine, heroin, etc. Yet the prohibition of these ha-
indeed has the inclusion of these narcotics in the Pharmacopoeia lists ever given them any wider use, as argued by some who are against the Pharmacopoeia recognition of medicinal spirits."One pessimistic editorial writer
be expected to boom the demand for
more attention to the laws of the U.
S. Pharmacopoeia than they do to the Prohibition statutes'."The fact of the matter, however, is that legitimate medicine and legiti-
liquors."Indeed, even the bootlegger will
he sells his vicious stuff as 'whisky'
he is not only amenable to prosecution under the Prohibition statute,
but also under the Pure Food and Drugs Act."By all means, then let these spir-
as in those hectic days when Dr. Wiley held the stage and championed all things pure."—Literary Digest.STONE MOUNTAIN MEMORIAL COINSSkeptical countries or the old world which saw in the very sincer-
proof of the mutability of republics,
they were sealed with blood.Once the breach began to heal, the veterans of the Confederacy were
north in the ardors and responsibilities of government. By share and
north and south were one.But even with all this, the recent act of Congress authorizing the is-
tain Memorial is an official recogni-
history.That a government should issue a
ernment, together with the two generals who most aided him in defying
a gesture of amity and reunion almost without precedent.Yet this is what has been authorized by Congress, and that by unani-
proval.By such authorization the largest number of special coins ever issued
Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, and
of President Harding on the reverse.With the co-operation of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, the
the basis of a dollar value on each,
treasury, a sum that will go far toward finishing the colossal work.That the coin will make a popular
one.Here in the south we take this
Fort Sumpter and our present-day,
ment, built into it from its founda-
great war.What our armies gave overseas in the World War was a united service
of the 60's fighting side by side.
The south can furnish no more un-
answerable evidence of her allegi-
her sons to die for it.The north's answer to such proof
try what it is.—Nashville Tennessean.Myrtle Cain, Farmer-Labor mem-

IN SOUTHEAST MO.One of the largest and most inter-
souri is located at the edge of Benton. It is owned and operated by L.
A. Schott. At this season of the
year. Mr. Schott located here about
six years ago, at a time when rais-
queens and introduced them on these
of honey.Mr. Schott is a mechanic as well as
great many more for his neighbors.
to facilitate his work along this line.
He is well known throughout South-
interested persons from the sur-
study his methods of bee-keeping.
direct profit to Mr. Schott.One of the most interesting features of his work is the breeding of
requires expert knowledge and untir-
per day."To produce honey, one must have a big force of bees", says Mr. Schott.
the many miles of drainage ditches
developed land providing splendid food among the wild flowers and blos-
produce a much better grade of honey,
honey seldom goes over 11 pounds.
The winters here are not cold enough
to cause freezing out and the sum-
or other. In the spring of the year
clover, which grows abundantly in
for bees are followed by cow peas,
le, smartweed, golden rod and aster.
of a year or two the colonies in the
colony."Mr. Schott says that this community has some of the best soil for fruit that he has ever seen and that when
go to waste. Bees cannot make honey out of fruit juices. Orchard fruits
fruit-growing section, rather than a disturbance."Many farmers throughout South-

CLEAN UP - PAINT UP

Beginning on Monday morning, May 5th, and lasting all of the week, the
them. You will please burn everything that can be burned.Any person failing to comply with this request is violating a City Ordinance and will be subject to arrest.On May 22, 23 and 24 we have the Southeast Missouri Drummers Association to meet here in Skeston with us. Now, people, these drummers are a walking advertisement all over Missouri and adjoining states, and I want us to have our town so dressed up that they will go away saying that Skeston is the
keep the old toilets limed weekly. Let us have our yards mowed and not allow weeds to gather around our places. The City has to go to quite an expense in this matter and needs the co-operation of every citizen in town on this Clean-up
out of it.Besides the meeting of the drummers here, Skeston is now having numbers of home-seekers here weekly, looking for places to locate, besides the many
mosquito breeding places.

C. E. FELKER, Mayor.

fit to the farmer. Sufficient interest
of Mr. Schott to establish the South-
their industry.—Commercial Appeal.Windbreaks Give Protection And Make Farm PleasantWindbreaks are, in more ways than
sale.The effect of a windbreak may not
good or bad, however, depends upon
been made by the United States De-
ka, Kansas, Iowa, and Minnesota.
Average rather than exceptional conditions were measured, the object being to discover the effect of those in-
affect every annual crop grown.Measurements made in fields of
gain in the protected zone is sufficient to offset fully the effects of shad-
equal to the amount of grain which could have been grown on the shaded ground near the trees.
The corn crops showed more consistent and marked benefits fromprotection than any others. Height measurements on one field showed
first 18 rows next to the windbreak, while beyond this protected zone the
acre in the protected zone and only 41 bushels in the exposed part.With ordinary field crops the farmer may count on a benefit from wind-
may be produced.BELGIUM IN THE NEW

The State Highway Commission through its testing department has been experimenting with paint for bridges. South of Jefferson City a bridge was painted last year in several colors. What time with wind and weather will do to this paint will be carefully watched. The result will show which paint will last the longest and be the most economical. With hundreds of bridges to keep in repair, the saving to the state in paint alone can be readily understood.

On Saturday, May 3, the Manual Training Class of the Morehouse High School will demonstrate the use of the Paul Bunyan Hammer and the pulling of stumps. These boys have made, under the direction of Bryce Edwards, their own hammer and at this demonstration will operate it themselves. This hammer is of great service in the clearing of land since many of the smaller stumps can be quite easily and quickly removed with practically no expense. Those interested in land clearing methods are urged to come to this demonstration by the high school boys.

The Ladies' Aid of the Morehouse Methodist Church have a cotton crop on M. S. Tyson's farm. This is a share crop, Mr. Tyson furnishing mules and tools the same as to a tenant, and the Ladies' Aid administering and seeing that the work is

Lawn and garden tools.—Farris-Jones.

Clean up and paint up. Get your supplies from Farris-Jones.

Mrs. E. P. Coleman is spending a few days in Memphis with relatives.

Two arrests were made here Wednesday morning for driving cars with last year's license. Each were fined $14.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Matthews, Lynn Stallcup, and Mr. and Mrs. Moore Greer attended the Country Club dance at Cape Girardeau Wednesday night.

In Japan, an automobile is a real luxury. A license on a car of the cheapest type costs about $300, while gasoline, with taxes added, means an expense of approximately a dollar a gallon. In addition, practically all cars come from America, and the motorist must pay an import of 45 per cent.

Just to show what a gigantic task it is to construct highways in Missouri the figures from the report of the Bridge Engineer of the State Highway Commission lets a little light on this subjects. In the last three years, the Bridge Department of the Commission has drawn plans for 32,683 feet of bridges. This does not include the culverts under 12 feet in length. Carried out it means the Department has drawn plans for and constructed along the State highways six miles of bridges if they were placed together end to end.

CORRESPONDENCE FROM MOREHOUSE

Bob Barnes had his new Ford car stolen last Saturday night. He parked it on Beech Street, upon returning no trace could be found of it.

There will be a demonstration of the use of the Paul Bunyan hammer for stump pulling on the Himmelberger farm, one mile north of Morehouse, Saturday afternoon at 2:00. The land lies West of the Frisco crossing and is farmed by Charles Wofford. The work of this simple stump puller is truly remarkable, and everyone interested should see the demonstration.

The Co-Workers of Sikeston had an all day session with Mrs. I. H. Dunaway on Tuesday of this week.

The lower grades of the Morehouse school have been energetically practicing a May Day program including marches, songs and special numbers, which will be presented on the school grounds the afternoon of May the first.

moved from her eye at the Barnes Hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Banks spent Sunday with their son, Phillip.

Mrs. P. M. Gervig entertained the Bridge Club at her home, Tuesday evening.

There has been a marked decrease in the number of domestic servants since 1900, when the total number was over 2,000,000 and which in 1920 dwindled to nearly 1,000,000.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, speaking at Gloucester, Mass., said: "We hear much talk nowadays about the relative purchasing power of the dollar which, many experts tell us, is in 1924 just 65 per cent of what it was in 1913. This discussion is unprofitable. Our 1924 dollars is worth 100 cents in 1924, and looking backwards will not make it worth a penny more. We have adjusted ourselves to the 1924 dollar. We are paying more for things we need and we are constantly needing more things, but we are likewise earning more than we were in 1913".

Do a Row at a Time with the John Deere DF

Note these great advantages:

- A simple, depth-adjusting device insures even cultivation at the depth desired—just a turn of a tail bolt does it.
- Hugging device makes it easy to keep rigs parallel with the row, no matter how the shovels are set—a great advantage when hilling or laying by a crop.
- Correct attachment of strong lifting springs makes it easy to handle light or heavy rigs.
- Simple adjustment secures the deep penetration sometimes required in black land or other heavy soil.
- Adjustable arch—the DF cultivates wide or narrow rows.
- Improved cone-coupling—no adjustment required except to take up wear.

"Triumph" Is a Triumph

In his latest motion picture, "Triumph", coming to the Malone Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Cecil B. De Mille, the most brilliant showman-producer in the whole screen world, returns to the type of modern society drama in which he scored his earlier and most decided successes. Film fans who recall with pleasure "Manslaughter", "Why Change Your Wife", and "Male and Female", are assured that in "Triumph" Mr. De Mille offers them the same gripping, eye-filling combination of dazzling ladies and gowns, romance and thrill that made those pictures so popular.

"Triumph" is the story of a girl (Leatrice Joy) and two men who love her. The girl starts as a humble factory forelady and becomes a famous opera singer with two worlds at her feet. And yet wealth and fame are not enough until—

Scenes filmed amid the thundering cogs of a great factory, a fight between the rival lovers in a limousine going 90 miles an hour, spectacular cafe and modiste-shop scenes, a daring fire scene, a charming vision episode involving "Romeo and Juliet"—these are some of the delights awaiting you in "Triumph". Be sure and see it!

"Triumph" was adapted by Jeanie Macpherson from the Saturday Evening Post serial and novel by May Edgington, author of "Secrets". Besides Leatrice Joy, Rod La Rocque, and Victor Varconi, the big cast includes Charles Ogle, Theodore Kosloff, Robert Edson, Julia Faye, Geo. Fawcett, Zasu Pitts and Raymond Hatton. It is a Paramount Picture, produced by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

DAUGHERTY ELECTED DELEGATE FROM OHIO

Columbus, Ohio, April 29.—Former Attorney General Daugherty was running fourth in a field of seven Coolidge candidates for delegate at large to the Republican national convention on returns from 467 out of a total of 8,350 precincts in Ohio in today's primaries. Senator Simeon D. Fess was leading the Coolidge candidates for delegate at large with 3,339 votes as compared with 708 votes for John D. Fackler, the leading Johnson candidate. Daugherty had 2,725 votes, C. L. Knight 3,224 and Senator Willis 2,738. All Coolidge delegates were far ahead of the Johnson delegates.

On the same returns the high Cox candidate had polled four to one as many votes as the high McAdoo candidate.

Returns from 193 precincts in the presidential preferential primary out of a total of 8,350 in the state gave President Coolidge 3,552, Senator Hiram W. Johnson 440. In 175 precincts James M. Cox had 1,771 to 821 for William G. McAdoo for the Democratic endorsement.

Sleeper Service Lost

Poplar Bluff, Mo., April 29.—A sleeper service between Charleston and St. Louis on the Missouri Pacific will not materialize. In a conference held here yesterday the matter came up. Poplar Bluff business men objected to a change of the schedule on the Cairo branch where Charleston advocated it. Charleston wanted the sleeper put on and the time of the arrival of the Cairo to Poplar Bluff passenger train changed from 6:50 to 8:50 p. m., so that Charleston patrons could board the sleeper after business hours to go to St. Louis. Poplar Bluff objected to the change in schedule for the reason that 50 traveling men who live in Poplar Bluff use the evening train to get home at nights. The Missouri Pacific went on record as unfavorable to the change of schedule without approval of Poplar Bluff and when local interests refused approval Charleston had but one alternative—accept the sleeper on the regular schedule. Charleston went on record as not wanting the sleeper at all unless the set-back schedule could be secured, and this important addition to passenger service was lost to Southeast Missouri.

Mexico City, April 28.—Gen. Juan Alonso, and 42 subordinate officers, captured by the Federal troops Saturday near the town of Ixtapa, State of Chiapas, were given a summary court martial and immediately executed, according to an official report received at the War Office today from Gen. Agapito Lastra.

In addition to the officers captured and executed, Gen. Lastra's forces took more than 190 soldiers prisoner. The remainder of Alonso's band of 300 were killed in battle. Among the officers executed were two colonels, five lieutenant-colonels and 6 majors. The remainder were captains and lieutenants.

EASTERN SHOE Factories Cut

Boston, Mass., April 28.—Due to overproduction, New England shoe manufacturers are preparing to cut wages in order to compete more successfully with middle-western and other shoe centers.

Three centers in the New England field are working on wage readjustments, each having a problem strictly its own.

Of the three, perhaps Haverhill at present has most at stake since several concerns there have been forced to liquidate within the past few months, while others threaten to move away. Two large concerns have declared for wage reductions ranging from 25 to 40 per cent.

In Lynn, where a number of concerns have also been forced to liquidate during the past year, a secession movement in the Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America has followed awards by the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration cutting wages from 12 to 25 per cent. Workers assert the secession movement includes about 5000 members.

In Brockton, factories are running on greatly curtailed schedules. Negotiations are progressing and a slight wage reduction is probable within a few weeks.

TO CURTAIL COTTON ACREAGE

St. Louis, April 28.—Daniel J. Sully, heralded as "Cotton King" 20 years ago, when he fought English capital for control of the cotton market, when in St. Louis Sunday advised Southern planters to decrease their acreage and increase quality to be assured good prices.

"The supply even now is less than the demand, and if it is further curtailed so that spinners in England and elsewhere must fight for short crops, then the planter will come into his own," Sully said. He had been for several days on business, but left Sunday night for Chicago. He now lives at Los Angeles.

Sully was defeated in his efforts to force England to pay greatly increased prices for cotton but his attempted corner, seeking to aid the planters, won him the admiration of planters.

Charles I of England, who was executed on February 9, 1649, is said to have put on two shirts on the morning of his death, saying "If I were to tremble from cold, my enemies would attribute it to fear; I do not wish to expose myself to such a reproach".

BIRDS TO BE Banded AT MOUTH OF YUKON

Bird-banding operations will be a feature of an expedition now on its way to the migratory wild-fowl breeding grounds south of the mouth of the Yukon River in Alaska. This expedition is being financed by two members of the party, and is in charge of Olaus J. Murie, who has been engaged for some time on studies of the distribution and habits of the native caribou in Alaska for the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is believed that the expedition will afford not only an excellent opportunity for studying a great number of breeding migratory wild fowl in their summer homes, but also for banding a large number of ducks and geese on this great breeding ground. If such birds are later taken during the hunting season in different parts of Canada and the United States, valuable information regarding their routes of travel and their wintering grounds will be obtained. The expedition's route is by the Government railroad to Nenana on the Tanana River, and thence by dog sled 800 miles to the mouth of the Yukon. The party is now well advanced on the last lap of this journey.

Sardinia boasts the largest artificial lake in Europe. A power and irrigation improvement has recently been completed there on the River Tirso, in connection with which 420,000,000 cubic meters of water have been impounded. And this, it is stated, is only the first of seven huge artificial reservoirs included in the project.

That Government seals placed on inspected meat shipments are not to be tampered with is the expensive lesson recently impressed on a Pittsburgh firm. A freight car loaded with sweet pickle hams was shipped from Milwaukee. The shipment had been inspected and passed and the car sealed and marked officially by United States meat inspectors. When the car arrived in Pittsburgh an employee of the consignee broke the Government seal under the direction of his foreman. This is contrary to Federal regulations, which requires that such seals be broken only by officially employed inspectors. For the violation of this regulation the firm was prosecuted by the United States Department of Agriculture and a fine of $50 imposed.

CLEANINGS FROM THE WORLD OF SCIENCE*New Instrument Warns of Strains on Airships

The United States Bureau of Standards has perfected a new instrument which can be placed in any part of a structure of metal girders, like the framework of an airship, and which will indicate electrically whether the strain on a certain girder is safe or is too great. Such an instrument in the nosecap of the Shenandoah would have indicated the dangerous strain before the ship broke away. It can be used in the framework of buildings, and it can be arranged to indicate strains due to compression as well as to tension.

Prof. Baxter of Harvard has examined with the most extreme care some small bits of metal that have fallen from the sky as meteorites. They contain a little of the chemical element called cobalt. Prof. Baxter finds that this celestial cobalt is exactly the same in every way as cobalt that miners find right here on earth. Nobody knows just where the cobalt in the meteorites came from; perhaps from some exploded star billions of miles off in space. Yet it is the same as ours. Throughout the universe, throughout space so vast that we cannot even imagine it, in the midst of millions of flying stars and flaming suns, the laws of chemistry and the nature of chemicals are everywhere the same. Surely no fact that we know is more marvelous than this.

The same week that Prof. Baxter announced his discovery about the cobalt in meteorites, Dr. Van Voorhis of Princeton told the American Physical Society that helium gas (the same gas that is used to inflate the navy airship Shenandoah) would leak through solid glass. If you corked up some helium in a glass bottle and left it alone for a long enough time all the helium would leak out. Glass seems solid but really there are millions of tiny spaces between the invisible atoms of it. Tiny as these spaces are the helium slowly gets through them.

Four-fifths of the air is nitrogen gas. It is useless. But nitrogen in other forms make fertilizers and helps grow wheat to makes bread. Why the difference? Simply this: The nitrogen in the air exists in a state of single blessedness, it is just nitrogen. In the fertilizers the nitrogen has got married; each atom of the nitrogen has attached itself to an atom of oxygen. Like so many people, the married nitrogen goes to work; the single nitrogen loaf. One of the most important discoveries of recent years was made a short time ago in the Fixed Nitrogen Laboratory of the United States Government. It was the discovery of a way to make the nitrogen of the air get married; to convert the useless kind of nitrogen which is so plentiful in the air into the married kind that we need for fertilizers.

Dr. L. O. Howard, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology at Washington, flippantly known as the "bug bureau", has made a surprising announcement. He says that injuries caused by insects to farm crops make a money loss of more than $2,000,000,000 each year. If we add to this the other injuries that insects do us, such, for example, as the spread of disease by mosquitoes and flies, it is evident that the greatest battle that confronts the human race is that against these tiny creatures that challenge our control of the earth we so complacently call our own. If the insects ever combined against us man would probably not last out a year.

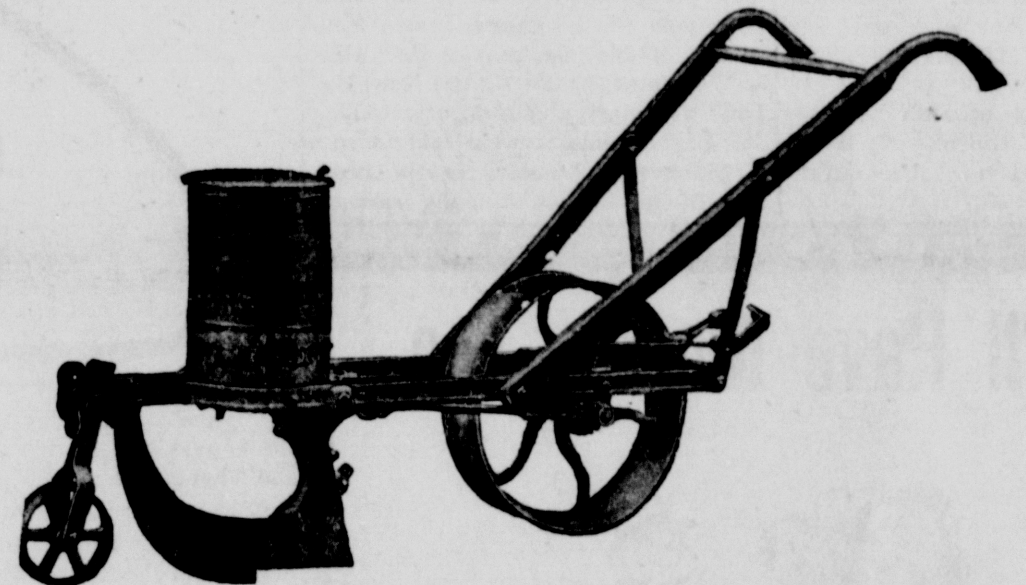

But the insects do not combine against man as we do against them. The reason is that they seem to have little or no intelligence. Their substitute for it is what we call instinct. Instinct makes all the insects do the same things. Over and over again, generation after generation, they keep on building their houses in the same way, fighting in the same way. They are the complete conservatives. No insect ever makes a new invention. Man does. So man keeps ahead.

is evidently of the opinion that man is going to last for a thousand years and to need clocks for all that time. The threat of insect dominance does not seem to worry him or his clocks. Let us hope he is right, about man at least.

FENTON FOLK LOSE FIGHT AGAINST REROUTING OF ROAD

Jefferson City, April 29.—Two injunctions sought against the State Highway Commission to restrain it from altering the routing of State Highways in St. Louis County and Pettis County, were denied today by Circuit Judge Henry J. Westhues, in rulings handed down in Cole County Circuit Court. The Judge held that the State highway system was being built for the entire State and that the commission had full authority to make any changes in routing deemed necessary for public safety.

One of the injunction proceedings involved a protest of residents of Fenton, St. Louis County, against the plan of the commission to relocate a bridge and the routing of a road now

Residents of Smithton, Pettis County, sought to restrain the commission from altering the route of State Highway No. 12, now passing through Smithton, so that it would pass north of the town. The purpose of the change was to eliminate two grade crossings over railroad tracks. Several garage owners joined in the proceedings. The judge held that it was "not a part of the duty of the highway commission to see that a State road passes in front of every garage now in existence".

COMPETITION KEEN IN ROAD CONSTRUCTION

The State Highway Commission has held a number of road lettings this spring and the competition among contractors for these jobs has been spirited. The result has been to keep road building prices down to the minimum thereby saving the state much money.

At the letting in April for every job there was an average of five bids submitted. Some of the road jobs had as many as 10 competitive bids submitted. The bids are opened and read in public and broadcasted by wireless from the Capitol Building.

All Road Material Tested

The State Highway Commission is seeking to construct roads only from the best material available in the state. For that reason every shipment of cement, some gravel, sand and steel that goes into a highway or a bridge is carefully inspected in advance.

Last year the testing laboratory of the Highway Commission made 5,375 laboratory tests of road building material. In addition field tests were made on 14,523 cars of cement, sand, gravel and stone. If placed in trains this material would fill a continuous line of freight cars extending over a distance of 123 miles, reaching as far as the distance from Jefferson City to St. Louis. These cars would make 290 trains of 50 cars each.

This does not include bridge timber, piling, and reinforcing steel of which 981,700 board feet, 92,000 lineal feet, and 12,000,000 pounds, respectively, were tested. All of this material was carefully tested by the State Highway Department.

M'ADOO'S MANAGER CAIMS 217½ VOTES

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—Wm. G. McAdoo, with 217½ votes pledged, is assured a lead on the first ballot at the Democratic National Convention, David L. Rockwell, his national pre-convention campaign manager, declared in a statement here, adding: "No other candidate has more than half that many."

The votes pledged to McAdoo, the statement said, are: North Dakota, 10; South Dakota, 10; Wisconsin, 3; Illinois, 11; Iowa, 26; Missouri, 36; Georgia, 28; Arizona, 4½; Kansas, 20; Nebraska, 10; Pennsylvania, 36; Porto Rico, 6; Panama, 6; Alaska, 6; Hawaii, 6.

"I feel satisfied with McAdoo leading on the first ballot; he will grow in strength until he reaches the necessary two-thirds," said Judge Rockwell.

FIGURES SHOW COST OF OUR MUD ROADS

Chief Engineer Piepmeier of the Highway Commission, shows the cost of operating an automobile over paved roads to be about 9 cents per mile. The cost of running a car over dirt roads averages about 11½ cents. Look at your meter and see how many miles it registers then multiply that total by 2½ cents and you will find out what you paid tax to a dirt road throughout the year.

A preliminary trial of the State vs. "Devil" Johnson was held in New Madrid Monday afternoon. Charges were an assault with intent to kill. The trouble seems to have arisen over some dogs, and J. W. Ogle was the worst party. Both parties are from Morehouse. Atty. J. Val Baker defended the case, while Atty. H. C. Blanton of Skeston and Prosecuting Attorney J. M. Massengill of New Madrid represented the State. The defendant was acquitted.

The largest clinic since the organization of the County Health Unit several years ago, was held in New Madrid, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. A great deal of interest has been manifested by the community, which is due to the hearty co-operation of the County Doctors with the County Health Unit, who are using every effort and means for the betterment of the rising generation. Our County Health Unit Dr. W. N. O'Bannon and nurse, Miss Victoria Parsons are busy, giving their entire attention to this wonderful work, and have accomplished great results. The people are becoming more and more educated to the necessity of looking after the diseases of their children, thereby preventing many chronic cases. The third floor of the Court House has been converted into a temporary hospital, with the necessary amount of cots, beds, water, lights, modern conveniences, and everything that is required for the purpose. Four graduate nurses were on duty at this clinic, assisting the County doctors; also a number of volunteer nurses, who helped to care for the patients.

JOY
in Cecil B. DeMille's
"Triumph"

Here's Lovely Leatrice as a young factory forelady.

What's a De Mille creation without gorgeous ladies in gorgeous gowns? "Triumph" has its full share of them.

IN his latest motion picture, "Triumph," Cecil B. De Mille, the most brilliant showman-producer in the whole screen world, returns to the type of modern society drama in which he scored his earlier and most decided successes. Film fans who recall with pleasure "Manslaughter," "Why Change Your Wife?" and "Male and Female," are assured that in "Triumph" Mr. De Mille offers them the same gripping, eye-filling combination of dazzling ladies and gowns, romance and thrill that made those pictures so popular.

"Triumph" is the story of a girl (Leatrice Joy) and two men who love her. The girl starts as a humble factory forelady and becomes a famous opera singer with two worlds at her feet. And yet wealth and fame are not enough until—
